2 Read the text and do the exercises.

People first used the word 'volunteer' in 1795, but in England there were at least 500 volunteer hospitals long before that. The YMCA in London became the first volunteering organisation in 1844. It provided help to needy people and held classes to help people develop skills. The Red Cross became the first international charity organisation in 1863. Volunteer work is becoming more and more popular in the world. For example, in the USA, about one-fifth of the population does volunteer work. In Europe, thousands of volunteer programmes are run in different countries.

Everyone can do volunteer work to help their community. Volunteer activities include donating food and clothes, joining clean-up projects, tutoring children, protecting wild animals, etc. Volunteers work not for money but to help people in need and to connect with others.

a. Match each word or phrase highlighted in the text with its meaning.

1. needy people

2. charity organisation

3. popular

4. community

5. connect

a. to link, join things or people together

b. an organisation for helping people in need

c. people who need help, poor people

d. a group of people living in a place

e. liked or enjoyed by a large number of people

b. Tick (✓) T (True) or F (False).

1. People first used the word 'volunteer' in the 18th century.
2. The YMCA held classes that taught people skills.
3. The Red Cross is an American charity organisation.
4. Volunteers work to help and connect with others.
5. One example of volunteer work is donating clothes.

3 Read the passage and answer the questions by circling A, B, or C.

Choosing to volunteer takes up some of your time. Some people say that they do not have time to help others, so they don't volunteer. But scientists say giving time to help others benefits us.

The first benefit of volunteering is that it helps us learn to be flexible. Volunteers have to be ready for changes and stay flexible when solving problems. Second, volunteering can improve our health because it requires us to be active. A report found that Americans who volunteer 100 hours or more a year are the healthiest people in the country. Third, volunteers have opportunities to develop more relationships. They often work in teams, and team members get to know each other and sometimes even become friends. Moreover, volunteers often help needy people, so they may feel thankful for what they have. For these reasons, volunteers are generally positive and are less likely to become depressed.

So if you have not joined a volunteer activity yet, think about it. You are likely to benefit from doing so.

1. What is the main idea of the passage?
 - A. There are different types of volunteer activities.
 - B. What to expect when you do volunteer work.
 - C. There are some good reasons why you should do volunteer work.
2. Which is NOT true about volunteers?
 - A. They are the strongest and most active.
 - B. They are flexible thinkers.
 - C. They are generally more positive.
3. Which is a benefit of doing volunteer work?
 - A. You will have a happier family.
 - B. You can have more friends.
 - C. You will never feel unhappy.
4. Why are volunteers often more positive?
 - A. They are the healthiest people in the country.
 - B. They stay active.
 - C. They often feel they are luckier than others.
5. How many benefits are mentioned in the passage?
 - A. Two.
 - B. Three.
 - C. Four.
6. What is the purpose of the passage?
 - A. To tell people not to join volunteer activities if they don't have the time.
 - B. To encourage people to do some volunteer activities.
 - C. To explain the steps you should follow when you join volunteer activities.

7 Read the following passage and choose the correct answer to each question. (1.0 pt)

In Britain children start school when they are five. Their first year – the reception – is usually a very happy one for the child. They learn to follow instructions from the teachers. Lots of new skills are introduced. Communal activities, socialising with the other children, learning to take turns are all part of the first-year experience.

As they paint, draw, and do other creative activities, they interact with other children and their language skills develop. When they have music and movement lessons or gym activities, they learn to control their body movements. Children learn to cooperate with others. During music lessons, they have to listen to a rhythm and try to copy it, and sing simple tunes.

In the morning students have number work and reading skills. The afternoons are more creative. They learn to have parties, make little cakes and pour cups of tea for others. They love dressing up in costumes and acting like adults.

1. What is the first year of school called in Britain?
 - A. The reception
 - B. The year one
 - C. The beginners' year
 - D. The starters' year
2. Which of the following encourages language development?
 - A. Number work
 - B. Creative activities
 - C. Music and singing

- A. control
B. study
C. follow
D. communicate
4. What types of learning do children take part in before lunch?
- A. Maths and reading
B. Making parties
C. Making cakes
D. Acting in plays
5. Which of the following is NOT true, according to the passage?
- A. Children in Britain start school when they are five.
B. When children interact with each other, their language skills develop.
C. In their music lessons, they try to copy musical notes.
D. Children love dressing up and acting like adults.

D Reading

1 Read the following passage and decide whether the statements are true (T) or false (F).

Who are the best drivers? According to a recent survey, young and inexperienced drivers are the most likely to have an accident. Older drivers are more careful. Young men have the worst accident record of all. They often drive faster cars with bigger engines. One of the most interesting findings in the survey is that passengers can affect the driver. When young male drivers drive their friends, their driving becomes worse. When their wives or girlfriends are in the car; however, their driving improves. But this is not true for women. Their driving is more dangerous when their husbands or boyfriends are in the car. However, if their children are riding in the car, they drive more slowly and safely.

	T	F
1. According to the survey, young and inexperienced drivers are the most likely to have an accident.
2. Generally, older men are likely to drive fast cars with big engines.
3. Passengers have an effect on the driver.
4. When men have their wives or girlfriends in the car, they drive worse.
5. When children are in the car, mothers drive more slowly and safely.

2 Read the text and decide which answer A, B, C, or D best fills each gap.

How to Avoid a Traffic Jam

It is common to get stuck in traffic jams in big cities, so here are some tips to help you avoid them.

Firstly, avoid travelling during rush hour. You should know when rush hour takes place in your city then avoid it.

Secondly, learn other routes to get to your destination. You should use other routes that will take you to your destination. Sometimes you simply cannot avoid travelling during rush hour, but find new routes online to avoid the overcrowded roads.

Thirdly, listen to the radio for traffic alerts and updates. You never know when an accident or roadworks may delay you. If you hear about a possible interruption, choose a different route.

Finally, use public transportation when possible. If more people use public transportation, there will be less traffic on the roads. Public transport can not only save you money and time, but it can also help reduce air pollution.

1. Knowing when rush hour takes place can help you _____.
A. avoid travelling during it
B. choose the shortest route
C. know about interruptions
2. If you travel to the same destination every day, it is necessary for you to _____.
A. learn to take different routes
B. use only public transportation
C. wait until there are no accidents

3. Public transportation may _____.
 - A. be slower than taking your car
 - B. reduce the number of traffic jams
 - C. cost more than using individual vehicles
4. The word “it” in the text refers to _____.
 - A. money

B: When we burn coal, it causes pollution.

D Reading

1 Read the passage and choose the best option (A, B, or C) to complete each sentence.

We can use renewable and non-renewable energy sources to make electricity.

Most of our electricity comes from power stations that use fossil fuels like coal, oil and gas. We call them non-renewable sources because they will eventually run out. Unfortunately, burning fossil fuels produces lots of greenhouse gases which cause global warming.

We also use renewable energy sources like the sun, wind and water to make electricity. We can use them again and again because they cannot run out. They do not produce greenhouse gases so they are much less harmful to the environment.

- Power stations use fossil fuels like _____ to produce electricity.
A. coal, oil and gas B. coal and gas C. oil and gas
- Burning fossil fuels produces _____ which cause global warming.
A. greenhouse gases B. carbon dioxide C. methane
- We can use the _____ to make electricity.
A. sun and water B. sun and wind C. sun, wind and water
- The renewable sources can be used again and again because they _____.
A. can run out B. cannot run out C. should run out
- Renewable sources are _____ harmful to the environment.
A. much more B. much less C. not less

2 Read the passage and complete the table.

Our environment is in trouble. People and industries are polluting the air, rivers, lakes and seas. There are many things you can do to help the environment. Here are a few.

Cars: The burning of petroleum is one of the biggest sources of carbon monoxide (CO) that causes global warming. CO thins the ozone layer, which protects us from the sunrays. So try walking, bicycling or using public transportation.

Energy: The biggest use of home energy is for heating and cooling homes. It costs a lot of money. So don't use air-conditioners too often, especially at night. Replace regular light bulbs with low energy light bulbs, which use less energy.

Water: Showers use a lot of water. Buying a special "low-flow" shower head or taking shorter showers can cut this use in half.

2 Read the passage and do the tasks below.

My uncle is working at a car company. His company is now developing a new flying car. The car will have solar panels on its roof and wings, and it will charge its battery as it moves. During light traffic, you can use roads. But in heavy traffic, you can use the flight mode to avoid traffic. It will be able to carry eight passengers. The car will have an autopilot function, so a driver is not needed. All passengers can relax, read books or play games while travelling.

I was worried about the safety because it is driverless, but my uncle said it will be much safer than a traditional car. It will also be more comfortable and greener because it is solar-powered.

a. Tick (✓) T (True) or F (False).

3. What can it do during traffic jams?

4. What can passengers do when the car is running?

5. Why is it greener than a traditional car?

3 Read the passage and do the tasks below.

Tel Aviv will be the first city in the world to have a skyTran system. This system will help the city reduce traffic congestion. Moreover, skyTran will provide a greener, less expensive, faster, and more comfortable mode of travel than cars and buses. The system has many pods and each pod has two seats. Passengers can get a pod by using a smartphone app. The pods glide along the rails above to their destination. The pods run on electricity and can travel at speeds up to 150 mph while passengers will still have a smooth ride. The system is about 70 m above the ground. The cost is higher than taking a bus but lower than taking a taxi. So, many people think it will be a perfect means of transport to replace traditional ones. The USA and many Asian countries are interested in building skyTran networks in the very near future.

4 Read the passage and decide if the statements are true (T) or false (F). (1.0 pt)

There are three major forms of fossil fuels: coal, oil and natural gas. We call them non-renewable energy sources because fossil fuels take millions of years to form and they are running out. What will happen when there is no coal, oil and natural gas on earth?

Scientists are trying to find and use other alternative sources of energy. We can use energy from the sun, wind and water.

We can also save fossil fuels by conserving energy. One simple way to do this is to turn off electrical appliances that we are not using. We can also turn off lights when no one is in the room. Another way is to travel by bike or walk instead of driving cars or motorbikes.

	T	F
1. We call coal, oil and natural gas non-renewable energy sources.
2. It takes thousands of years for fossil fuels to form.
3. We can use energy from the sun, wind and water to replace fossil fuels.
4. Conserving energy is a good way to save fossil fuels.
5. To turn off electrical appliances when not using them is one of the two ways to conserve energy.

Electric buses:

I think electric buses will become more popular in the future. They will be able to carry 30 passengers and will still provide comfortable seats for everyone. It will be cheap to travel by electric buses. There also won't be any delays.

Bullet trains:

I think bullet trains will become a popular means of transport in the future because they can carry hundreds of passengers at the same time. They are fast and green. They are also always on time.

Resorts by the sea:

I think resorts by the sea will be popular because they are luxurious, and people can enjoy fresh air.

Or

I think resorts by the sea will not be popular because these areas are noisy. These resorts are luxurious, but will be expensive to stay at.

Beaches in rural areas:

I think people will choose beaches in rural areas for their holidays in the future because these places are peaceful and people will get fresh air there.

Or

I think people will not choose beaches in rural areas for their holidays in the future because these places are far from the cities. Also not many people stay there and they are expensive.

8 (2.0 pts)

Sample answer:

I want to write about a flying car. It is a means of transport we will use in the future. It looks like a normal car with no wings. It can fly because it has a special engine that runs on solar energy. It does not need a runway to take off, either. It can run on roads and of course it can fly on air, too. If you have one, you will not have to worry about traffic jams. That is why it will be popular.
